

Schild Estate Barossa Cabernet Sauvignon

Barossa is divided into 2 regions, Barossa Valley and Eden Valley. Conditions vary greatly within Barossa and between the two regions, however Shiraz and Riesling have been established as the dominant varietals. The 2013 Schild Estate Cabernet Sauvignon is a genuine expression of this great variety from a select and particular part of the Barossa. Our quest has been to produce a wine with great varietal definition and a real sense of place.

2013 saw warm and dry conditions throughout most of growing season, but without any significant periods of severe heat. Yields were low and many red varieties ripened evenly, with great flavour depth and some firm prominent tannins which have softened well during maturation. As a result, many of the wines from the year show great structure and framing when young and look to have the ability to genuinely age well too. Enjoy today or save until 2022. Serve lightly chilled to 18C.

BAROSSA VALLEY, AUSTRALIA
14.5% ALCOHOL

HOW IT LOOKS

Dense with dark purple hues.

HOW IT SMELLS

Deep and controlled with fresh, crunchy dark fruit supported by subtler secondary notes of cedar and sandalwood which provide a restrained edge to the wine. Ends with just a faint hint of classic Cabernet perfume to provide a clue at variety.

FOOD PAIRING

Grilled pork chops, with a bacon and bread stuffing, served with fingerling potatoes.

HOW IT TASTES

Attractive creamy dark berry compote fruit is supported by a fresh and a focused line of travel through the palate. This dark fruit holds firm, deep and long before just a hint of dusty tannins shows late working around the edges, providing another layer and rounding out the wine.
