

Cuvée Jean-Paul

Paul Boutinot quickly realized a life of construction wasn't for him; leading him to pursue a life in wine. Paul joined the family restaurant, but was quickly irritated by the lack of selection available. Back in those days, it was easy enough to rent a van and drive to France to stock up on some incredible wines, so that's what Paul did. This road trip spurred what is now Boutinot Wines. Properties in Italy, France, South Africa and even England all contribute to the diversity that is Boutinot Wines.

Of all the wines produced and represented by Boutinot, their story and philosophy is epitomized in the small Cuvée Jean-Paul line. Since its first vintage, this wine proved the company's blending ability and helped to form the backbone of their success. The Grenache and Syrah grapes are selected from Southern Rhône and produce a wine that is both elegant and flavourful. It's no surprise that Cuvée Jean-Paul has become Boutinot's best selling French house-wine! Drink today at 18 C.

HOW IT LOOKS

A lighter red, with a rich ruby core. A cherry hue towards the rim where it becomes almost clear.

HOW IT SMELLS

At first, bright aromas of green raspberry leaf, Italian herbs, and spices like clove and thyme waft. Give a little swirl and notes of raspberry and earthiness show. Pink peppercorns and a herby perfume, finishing with a light floral note of lavender.

FOOD PAIRING

Perfect for a light spread of cheese and preserves! A mild cheddar with a fig based jelly or with fun meals like a BLT or a meat-lovers pizza.

HOW IT TASTES

At first sip, tart red fruits such as raspberry, currant and just under ripe cherry. Light and easy on the palate, hints of baking spice and cranberry give what we would imagine a cranberry pie would taste like in a glass! Once given a bit of time, notes of red apple will tingle your taste buds. This medium to light bodied Cuvée is effortless to drink with soft tannins that leave a lingering dry finish. Perfect for red wine drinkers in the summer.
