The Real Review, Huon Hooke - SEP 2019

95 POINTS

"Very good deep red/purple colour; bold and youthful. A full-bodied, dense, fleshy wine with concentration and power. Harmonious palate, with nicely polished tannins and balanced oak. It's varietal but properly ripe and has a very promising future."

95 POINTS / GOLD

"From old vine vineyards across McLaren Vale, each parcel vinified separately, matured for 15 months in French oak (30% new) before barrel selection and blending. The alcohol was unknown at the time of tasting, but seems moderate. The super-fragrant bouquet is full of red flowers and red fruits that positively dance on the tongue as you start to assess the palate. Freshness and length are the keys to a very elegant cabernet."

94 POINTS

"Very impressive dark plums and licorice with toasted spices and blackcurrants, leaves and herbal accents, which speak strongly to cabernet. This is an impeccably made wine. Silky tannins that are long and succulent with some redcurrants creeping up through blueberries and cassis. Screw cap. Drink or hold."
